Institute Information

Day One:

In order for a practice to be accurately described as coaching, certain characteristics must be present. Topics covered on the first day include characteristics of an effective coach, coaching as a style of interaction, joint planning, observing, action planning, reflection, feedback.

Participants will receive a coaching tool kit including:

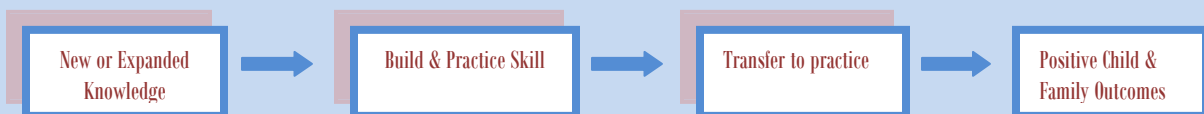

- Coaching Quick Reference Guide
- Coaching Practice Rating Scale
- Tips & Techniques for Effective Coaching Interactions

Day Two:

The second day will apply coaching characteristics within a context more specific to your role and work environment. More intensive, in-depth practice will be provided. Participants will select from one of three coaching categories. The coaching skill sets used in all three will be the same for focused practice/application. Scenarios will be specific to these groups:

- Coaching and mentoring for administrators and supervisors
- Coaching to assure positive social emotional outcomes in classrooms and programs
- Coaching to assure high quality early childhood practice
